

BUSINESS PROPOSITION

W. B. KIRK GIVES INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE FIRE BOND ELECTION

Even more than the chemical engine and motor driven hose cart, with its regularly employed firemen, which became an absolute necessity to replace the little hose cart drawn by the old gray horse, with its volunteer remen, led by Marshal Miller, in the Glendale of ten years ago, the new fire equipment proposed by the trustees is a dire necessity to the welfare of our present city of good people. The building of the two and three-story blocks in unbroken continuity at Broadway and Brand makes the menace of fire at a time when even a light wind is blowing fearful to contemplate, while a well started fire in the sanitarium, one of the high school group, the new Elks' building or the Methodist church could not be handled at all with one or two streams of water and only the natural pressure.

It seems strange that we have been satisfied so long without a good pumping engine, a large supply of hose and a swift machine to carry the chief to the fire in order to plan the fight before the arrival of the equipment. Inquiry as to the protection of other little cities of the Glendale class reveals the fact that they are all in much better condition than we, all of them having engines and at least twice as many paid firemen. Our trustees recognized this state of affairs when they called a previous election to vote bonds for fire protection, but it failed to carry only because, I believe, the people did not understand the urgent need, and the election was given too little publicity. I believe the time has now arrived when it is only necessary to call the attention of the citizens to the great importance of this matter and the absolute necessity of obtaining this equipment at once, to have the matter settled at once by an overwhelming vote.

In the purchase of these machines I know our trustees will be glad to have the experience and technical knowledge of any of our citizens to help them in their selection, and it is needless to say, "wouldn't it if they could and couldn't if they would," spend a dollar of this money for anything else whatever.

We have always had a good board of trustees, and I frequently wonder how it is possible to secure a board consisting of men of such high character and good business judgment who are willing to devote so much of their time and ability in looking after your affairs and mine. I meet men who concede the splendid management of our public service department, but who haven't a good word to say for any of our other officials. In this they are absolutely inconsistent, because the ownership and splendid results of our light and water systems has been possible only by the co-operation of all the officials. No man, I imagine, is a greater booster for the new fire apparatus than our public service manager, Mr. H. B. Lynch.

As to our bonding ability, while we have, I believe, about $400,000 of outstanding bonds, we are taxed on only about 10 per cent of them, the other representing the value of our water and lighting systems, which properties are being gradually acquired, the operation paying off the bonds besides taking care of the interest, upkeep and depreciation. If these bonds carry, our total taxes for interest on bonds will be less than $3000 a year, about half the value accruing to us annually through our public service department. With the protection secured by the proposed bond issue we should be able to secure as low a rate on insurance as that in Los Angeles, which is at least 10 cents a hundred less than ours. On this basis, a value of only $3,000,000 is required to save us the total amount of our taxes on bonds. This is a business proposition all the way through. Get busy tomorrow and see that your neighbors and all of your own family get to the polls.

W. B. KIRK.

RED CROSS PROGRAM

DR. HARROWER ANNOUNCES ATTRACTIONS FOR BENEFIT CONCERT TONIGHT

As has been announced previously, tonight is the night of the first of the series of monthly benefit entertainments arranged by Dr. Henry R. Harrower for the Red Cross. This will be given in the Glendale Union high school auditorium this (Monday) evening at 7:45. Quite a number of season tickets have been disposed of, and it should be understood that it is not necessary to spend $1.50 in order to enjoy a single concert, for the admission at the door to others than ticket holders will be 25 cents; small children free.

We are informed that an excellent program has been arranged, thanks to the co-operation of Mrs. Leroy W. Bosserman, Miss Alice Frank and Mrs. Eugene Murman with the entertainment committee. The following tentative outline has been handed to us, and from it it will be clear that a splendid time may be anticipated tonight:

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Robert Yost.
(a) "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind" (Sarjeant).
(b) "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water" (Cadman).
Pianoforte Solo—Miss Helen K. Walker.
Polka de Concert (Bartlett).
String Sextette—Prof. A. S. Hobble and associates.

(a) Grand Festival March (Weingartner).
(b) Forget Me Not (Harris).
Patriotic Reading—Mrs. Allison Gaw. Remarks by the chairman.

Violin Solo—Mr. Cecil Crandall, accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Murman.

(a) Mazurka (Chopin).
(b) Larghetto (Weber).
(c) Moments Musicales (Schubert).

All of the above arranged by Fritz Kreisler.

Vocal Solo—Miss Winifred J. Miller.
(a) Joy of the Morning (Ware).
(b) The Song of the Blackbird (Juliter).

(c) The Kid Has Joined the Colors (Hanson).
Zither Quartet, with Violin Obligato—Prof. Hobble and associates.

(a) Waltz, Bells in the Valley (Strauss).
(b) Zither and Violin Duet—Master Walter Suk and Miss A. Kifer.

"Call Me Thine Own," from the opera "L'Eclair."

There are several other numbers in prospect if time and circumstances permit. For instance, arrangements have been almost made to have some numbers by a soldiers' quartet from Fort McArthur, but this may not materialize. We may also have the pleasure of hearing Dr. Allison Gaw, a famous Shakespearean scholar and expositor, who is professor of English literature in the University of Southern California. His wife has promised to read her own patriotic poem which recently won a prize of several hundred dollars, and is indeed an inspiring composition.

It is expected that local members of the Glendale chapter will be at the high school in force, and that they will do all in their power at the last minute to increase the attendance. Following the entertainment, for a few minutes a short but important business meeting of the organization will be held. This meeting was planned for last Saturday evening, but had to be postponed until tonight.

You are invited to come to the high school tonight at 7:45 and enjoy this excellent entertainment, and at the same time be co-operating in the attainment of the great and noble objects of the American Red Cross.

CENTRAL AVENUE ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment at the Central Avenue school auditorium Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association, was given to a capacity house, a good sum was realized toward the tennis court fund and the program was most enjoyable from start to finish. Every one was delighted with the recitations by Master Robert Lehman and the Chinese magic by "Chin Goney" Frederick Newlin and "Hop Sing Woo" Philip Henderson was not only mystifying but interesting and amusing. Miss Wetherby charmed with her songs, and Mrs. U. F. Newlin with her impersonations, and both were obliged to respond with encores. The Ralston family, who gave the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet" and "Against His Will," a burlesque comedy, were enthusiastically received, and the splendid talk by Prof. R. D. White, of the Intermediate school, was much appreciated. Altogether, it was a most charming program.

AT DEAD MAN'S ISLAND

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF COAST ARTILLERY BOYS PICNIC WITH THEM

The picnic at Dead Man's Island on Sunday was a distinct success. Every soldier boy who remained on the island—and most of them made an especial point to do so—had friends of his own to entertain with the exception of two or three, and those were promptly adopted by the hospitable guests, who came loaded down with good things to eat far in excess of the capacity of a single lunch time. Probably more than 150 picnickers responded to the call published in the Glendale Evening News on Friday, and Sunday morning found the boys who so hopefully brought their boat to the landing at San Pedro met by a most inspiring number of goodly hampers, accompanied by the cheerful picnickers. All were taken to the island by the boys in their government boat, which furnished free transportation. Visitors continued to come all through the afternoon, and the beach presented a very animated scene. Many of the lunches were eaten in the big mess room, while numerous other parties preferred the beach. Every one certainly had a thoroughly good time, and the actions of the boys spoke in unison with their happy faces to testify to their oft repeated protestations of gratitude for the thoughtfulness of those who had remembered them in this highly agreeable manner. And it was so easy, too. So often the very pleasant things are. That the boys are still thinking about it is certain, for the "afterthoughts" asked for in the way of jars of jam and jelly were brought in gratifying quantities and were left as a generous guarantee of remembrance.

BENEFIT DANCE A DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

When Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Bachmann announced that they would give a benefit dance for the Glendale Red Cross chapter those who had enjoyed the hospitality of this couple in the past knew that a treat was in store for them Saturday evening, and they were not disappointed. The house and grounds were gay with seasonable decorations, and Prof. A. Lowinsky and Miss Lillian Botwin, who came out from Los Angeles at the professor's solicitation to assist at the piano, were there to furnish the music. Mr. Spencer Robinson dropped in after the community concert at the high school, and the Bachmanns had a community concert all their own when he let out his big voice and led the gathering in singing all the old-time favorites. Mr. "Heinie" Weir contributed an amusing recitation, and Miss Viola Yorba, Glendale's dainty song and dance artist, charmed by singing "La Golondrina" and "La Paloma." Later, Miss Yorba danced an artistic number with Mr. Ernest Martinez. "Carmenita," in Oriental garb, did a lively business telling fortunes, occasionally imparting some very truthful and disquieting information. It was noticed that Dr. Green and Harry Duffield found it necessary to consult the fair sorceress repeatedly. Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., had charge of the refreshments, and there were no "leavins" when the party was over.

THE IRON LAW OR THE GOLDEN RULE

"Autocracy finds its strength in its ability to impose organization from the top; the essence of democracy consists in the application of the initiative in its own people. If democracy can not be so organized as to defend itself, then democracy is a faith which can not stand."—Herbert Hoover.

As patriotic Americans, let us not lose sight of the fact that each one of us, although not privileged to fight the battles of democracy against autocracy on the battlefield, has a duty equally as important to perform at home. The commands of Herbert Hoover in regard to the production and conservation of food are equally as imperative as the commands of the generals on the field of battle. Some of the things we are asked to do may seem of themselves small, but let us do them in the spirit of patriotic Americans.

The people of Glendale's attention is hereby most urgently called to the fact that this is official food pledge week, and urges upon all citizens to sign the pledge cards and to in every way co-operate with our government in its plans for the conservation of the food supply, remembering that food in this great conflict is as important as bullets.

CERRITOS AVENUE P. T. A. PRESENTS ARTISTS AT SATURDAY CONCERT

(By Walt Le Noir Church.)

"Oh, whistle, daughter, whistle, And you shall have a cow."
"I never whistled in my life, dad, And I can not whistle now."

That never was written of Miss Ora Morgan Lockhart, whose bird-like whistling harmonized so perfectly with the soul tones of that marvelous little "fufophone" at the high school Saturday night.

When she "fired" "Yankee Doodle" we kept mental step with our boys in khaki. But while she fluted "My Rosary" our hearts joined in the prayer song that needs no words.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, the Cerritos school and other Southrons of Tropico set the pace for Glendale. Three cheers for Tropico! What was good became better. But the better may not remain the best. When Glendale and Tropico shall wed, wondrous things shall happen.

Little nine-year-old Catharine Weighe played on the piano a difficult minuet, with great promise. It is good to see young amateurs striving for public recognition of real talent. This was emphasized in an eloquent talk by Mrs. John J. Abramson, of the Los Angeles Friday Morning Club, who, by the way, is to promote community singing and other entertainment among our soldier boys in camp. She said she had come at Mrs. Richardson's invitation, expecting to encourage us in our efforts at community singing. But she herself was encouraged and greatly surprised at what we had accomplished. She congratulated us on our singing master, Spencer Robinson, the former partner of the great Barnard, now leader of the community singing in the New York Hippodrome. She said she wished our soldiers in camp could enjoy what we were giving in the high school that night, and that she could have Mr. Robinson's aid in developing such singing at the soldier camps.

The singing of the 24 children was fine, in the lovely little songs, "Silver Moon Sailing" and "Good Night, Sleep Tight." They were trained and accompanied by Miss Ruth Morgan, a teacher in the Cerritos avenue Tropico school.

But the triumph of the evening perhaps was achieved by Florence Rattray and her associate sextet of lovely, living flower flags, in their song, "Why Can't a Girl Be a Soldier?" The sextet was composed of Doris Cook, Merna Kahler, Dorothy Dutton, Glen Hitchcock, Shirley

MR. FIELD LEAVES

Mr. F. A. Field, of 231 South Kenwood street, who has for the last nine years been connected with Coulter's, in Los Angeles, left on Saturday evening for an extended trip through New Mexico. His destination is the well known Hook's ranch, in New Mexico, where he expects to stay for an indefinite time. The wife of the present owner of this great ranch, said to be the largest remaining cattle ranch in the West, Mrs. Medley, is a school and class mate of Mr. Field's daughter, Miss Bessie Field. Miss Field spent a considerable part of her year's leave of absence from the Glendale high school a year or so ago with her friend at this truly wonderful spot. The elevation is 6500 feet and the air very dry and bracing. Mr. Field expects to find his health much improved there and to enjoy a much needed rest. He will visit friends at Albuquerque, El Paso and other points of interest en route. He was the recipient, just before leaving, of a handsome surprise gift inscribed, "From your many friends at Coulter's." A beautiful traveling bag, containing many smaller gifts, including an interesting book to read on his travels, comprised the very thoughtful and pleasing remembrance.

YULETIDE REMEMBRANCE

The Yuletide committee held a meeting at headquarters, 1017 West Broadway, Saturday evening, October 27, and all committees reported work well begun. One made by the show committee, of which Mr. Alexander Mitchell is chairman, was that Mr. Jensen has consented to give a picture benefit on November 23 for this cause, with Billie Burke in "Arms and the Girl." Don't wait for this benefit to show your appreciation of the boys, as we need most of the money at once with which to purchase gift boxes for those so far from home. The meeting was adjourned to Tuesday evening, October 30, when the chairman, Mr. Mattison B. Jones, hopes to have a full attendance of all committees.

EVEN STEEL MUST REST

A train pulled into a station the other day several hours behind time—which in itself isn't anything unusual these strenuous days of railroading. When the engineer was asked why he could not make the time he said his engine was tired; that it had had no rest. A new employee smiled at the fellow, for he couldn't believe that a piece of steel, or a combination of pieces of metal, actually required rest. But it is absolutely true, and the engineer understands it as does no other class of people.

An engine's working hours are as definitely fixed as a man's working hours. There is just as well defined about a human being who was worked beyond the point of endurance. The railroad men will tell you that much of the trouble with the roads today is that they haven't sufficient rolling stock; that they must use the cars and engines too much; that they become tired and will not perform their functions.—Columbus Dispatch.

In the case mentioned, nothing about the engine was broken. Its parts were well adjusted. But it had been sent out on the road for a second trip after having made a long, laborious run, and it was tired and didn't do its work as it would have done if it had been allowed to rest for 24 hours.

And where a piece of metal breaks from much use, as where it becomes crystallized—it is tired. That is as good a way to express it as any other. A spring worked incessantly crystallizes, the scientists tell us. But the layman, who works with metals, knows that springs get tired and lie down on the job, as we would say.

SPARTAN TRAINING

"Why is it that all the old lawyers are prosperous?"

"Well, a lawyer has to learn to live on nothing for the first three or four years. Naturally, when the money does begin to come in, it is all profit."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THAT'S A REAL TEST!

"That man is so honest he wouldn't steal a pin," said the admiring friend. "I never thought much of the pin test," remarked Miss Cayenne. "Try him with an umbrella."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Have you any theories as to self help?"

"Certainly. Mine is to help yourself to anything in sight you can."—Baltimore American.

Hitchcock and Gertrude Ewing. They answered that question by the snap and "pep" infused into their beautiful drilling, marching and singing. Evidently America can have her legions of Amazons whenever needed. Miss Pearl Keller of Tropic has good reasons to be proud of her pupils.

With Miss Gertrude Champlain at the piano, again Mr. Spencer Robinson made the community singing something to be greatly enjoyed. We are improving with every practice.

Mr. Samuel Parker, who first suggested our community concerts, said that it did his old heart good to see such growing interest in community singing, manifested by young and old in our schools, churches, clubs and homes. It develops good citizenship.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson and Tropic certainly made a hit Saturday night. But whatever that good citizen undertakes seems to succeed. May his present campaign to consolidate Tropic and Glendale be most successful of all.

Mr. Spencer Robinson was in a happy vein. More than once he expressed his pleasure at the prospect of soon being able to say of that fine Tropic talent:

"She is our whistler." "They are our singers."

The program for next Saturday night will be arranged by Mr. Spencer Robinson. So Glendale and Tropic may look forward to a royal good time. Perhaps we may have with us many of the Billy Sunday choir.

Note—Mr. Robinson made special announcement of the Red Cross dance at Dr. Bachmann's last Saturday night, also of the Red Cross concert at the high school tonight, and he certainly urged the large audience to remember and vote for the fire protection bonds at the Glendale election tomorrow, Tuesday, October 30.

It is not only the privilege of every woman to vote for this home and child welfare movement, but her duty."

FIRE PROTECTION

Anent the election pending tomorrow it may be pertinent to relate the experience of a city of 2500 inhabitants in Illinois, where the slacker spirit dominated the people, and hence reached the aldermen. All knew the want of better protection, but no action was taken until a fire wiped out a goodly part of the business section and smote the residence part not a little. An early train bore a committee of aldermen to the nearest mart and an early train carried a "machine" to the stricken city, giving protection to what was left, and what speedily in new buildings took the place of the ash heaps. A modern city is none too secure at best, but it is inviting calamity when you fail to hedge against a menace known and admitted by common sense.

MRS. MERRILL ENTERTAINS

Mrs. H. M. Merrill entertained with a dinner party at her home, 403 1/2 Brand boulevard, on Sunday evening. Halloween emblems and color effects were used for the decorations, as well as a profusion of enormous yellow chrysanthemums which beautified the living and dining rooms. The table was trimmed with pretty conceits appropriate to the occasion, the quaint pumpkin faces of the favors enlivening the scene most effectively. After a very good dinner, the evening was agreeably spent with games. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Warman of Huntington Park, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Phillips of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Barnett and Dr. Conrad of Glendale.

EVENING NEWS HINTS

Get down to solid facts on the food conservation question.

1. In every way possible encourage people to produce more food of the kind that is needed.

2. Encourage hanging to the first lamp post found the men who store needed foods for the purpose of getting a corner on prices.

3. Advocate a clean plate. Accept only such portions of food as you may desire to eat.

4. The ten thousand and one men and women who are aimlessly spending time talking about food conservation should be advised to get busy producing food in some form. Conscript them if necessary.

MONROVIA FAMILY ENLISTS NINETEEN FEET

Eighteen feet seven and one-half inches of the Carter family or Monrovia is now ready to fight for Uncle Sam in the world war for the overthrow of Prussian militarism. This offering of manhood has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carter, whose three sons are now with the Twelfth Coast Artillery at Los Angeles harbor. Frank Carter, the youngest, is six feet five inches tall. Kenneth, Jr., who is a sergeant in the Twelfth Coast Artillery, is six feet two and one-half inches tall, and Cyril, the last of the trio to enlist, is just six feet tall. Cyril was successful in obtaining assignment to company in which his brothers are serving.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Friday evening, October 26, a Halloween party was given by Misses Lena Mae and Leone Brice at their home, 142 South Kenwood street. The house was very artistically decorated in Halloween colors. Over the lights were shades of black and yellow, reflecting a soft, mellow glow over the rooms, witches, black cats and goblins peeped from every dark corner. One of the chief amusements of the evening, and one that afforded much pleasure, was a house in the backyard that was decorated to represent a forest of mystery. The floor was covered with pine needles and autumn leaves, trees and vines seemed to be growing everywhere. It seemed to be lighted by the last rays of the setting sun.

Seated upon a heap of autumn leaves of red and gold sat the witch of the forest, surrounded by her attendants, wizards, ghosts and goblins. The guests were given cards of black cats, which read, "Admittance to the Forest of Mystery, and your future revealed by her majesty the witch." A ghost escorted each couple through a grapevine covered arbor, lighted by grinning jack o' lanterns, where delicious punch was served, then into the forest of mystery, and seated them upon the magic bench before the throne of the witch, who revealed their future in a most pleasing manner.

Ice cream and cake were served during the evening, and also dainty little baskets of candy were given as favors, all carrying out the Halloween colors. The guests departed in the wee small hours of the night, with another happy evening stamped upon memory's page.

The guests were: The Misses Marion Addison, Waunita Emery, Margaret Lusby, Frieda Lindley, Blanche Cramer, Mabel Robbins, Oliver Chandler and Virginia Urgit of Los Angeles; Messrs. Paul Richardson, Everett Bartlett, Alvin Flanders, Wilfred Long, Dolliver Webb, Homer Morgan of Glendale, Al Williams of Los Angeles, Harold Latter and Howard McGillis. The Misses Lena Mae and Leone were assisted in entertaining by their mother, Mrs. Charles P. Brice, Mrs. A. Robbins, Zelma Lindley, Josephine and Olivebell Emery and Eleanor Brice, Elmo Brice and Charles P. Brice, Jr.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Halloween party given last Friday evening by the New Thought Center, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Williams, was a glorious success. The large and beautiful home of the Williamses was profusely decorated with pumpkins, witches and various other yellow and black decorations suitable for the occasion.

As the friends approached the dimly lighted home, where huge grinning pumpkins greeted them from the verandas, a dozen ghostly forms appeared from the shrubbery, dropping tin pans on the pavements. Those whose nerves withstood this shock were further harrowed by clapping the cold, wet fingers of a witch at the entrance. The chairs had been removed from the two front rooms and the guests requested to seat themselves on the floor. Besides the ghosts and the witch, who afterward proved to be the charming Miss Page, there were many in khaki uniforms, Yama Yama suits, while grotesque faces were the order of the evening. Miss Olive Williams, an Indian maid, and Paul, an Indian brave, helped to lend variety to the brightly garbed assembly. One of the ghosts, though frightfully cadaverous, was able to play the piano, and later proved to be Miss Ruth Williams.

A grand march was taken "upstairs and down and in my lady's chamber," "out and in and in ag'in," and finally into a dark back room. There sat a Gypsy bold, decked in finery galore, and from the kettle swinging over the coals fortunes were given to all. These when read caused much merriment, especially the one given to the jolly clown of the evening, Mr. A. M. Beamon, who later gave an exhibition of his prowess along one line.

A very pleasing program followed. Dr. Pfeiffer, whom we already know to be some preacher, showed rare musical ability on the mandolin, accompanied by his wife at the piano. The two selections, "Il Trovatore" and "In Old Madrid," were given with wonderful feeling and technique. Dr. Pfeiffer later proved to be a raconteur of note and a jolly good fellow. You never can tell just what these preachers will do when off the platform.

Mrs. J. J. Freeman, representing "Miss Columbia," sang most sweetly "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." Miss Blanche Curtis recited most creditably a selection entitled "Mother at the Gate." Mrs. C. R. Carmack disgraced herself by calling for punch and immediately all fled to the cellar, where punch was served by two fair ghosts, with the lights mysteriously turning off and on.

Apples and crispettes were passed about, and the remainder of the evening spent in singing the old familiar songs, closing with our national hymn, "America."

A vote of thanks is due the Williamses for the jolly good time given. May Halloween come again soon!

PRETTY CLUB PARTY

The Capital M Club, which is composed almost entirely of young married couples of Glendale, was entertained on Saturday evening with an especially interesting Halloween party at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gregg at Florenetta Park. The hallway was banked with cornstalks embellished with skull and crossbone as well as pumpkin decorations. Everywhere throughout the house symbols of Halloween were displayed in a most artistic manner, lending the fantastic touches of the season to a very merry assembly of guests in appropriate costumes, who were diverted with an ever changing program of Halloween amusements. The open fireplace added greatly to the occasion, and the good, old-fashioned occupation of popping corn was one of the features of the evening. "Bobbing" for doughnuts hung on strings instead of apples in a tub, was one of the highly amusing innovations introduced, and the blindfolded couples who fed each other puffed rice to the edification of the joyful audience won the vote of all as the most highly successful entertainment. Mrs. Gregg gave clever little prizes for each of the games and contests, and her refreshments were quite as appropriate to the occasion and as successful as the rest of her evening's arrangements. Her table was extremely pretty and the place cards, hand painted by the hostess, who is quite a talented artist. A great bowl of red apples from Mrs. Gregg's own ranch furnished the colorful center decoration. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Minetta Booth, and her mother, Mrs. Booth. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Kelley of Torrance, who expect soon to move to Glendale, while the Greggs themselves plan to rent their ranch and make Glendale their permanent home.

Auto Crooks are Getting Crookeder

The stealing of cars is on the increase. The cleverest crooks now take the stolen car apart, deface all distinguishing marks and sell the parts. They thus get considerable money out of the car and make it impossible for the owner to identify his property.

DOESN'T PAY TO "KID"

Reginald was the recognized wit of the office, and when the new office boy arrived it was expected, as a matter of course, that he would do something really funny. The boy was exceptionally green and Reginald did not disappoint his admirers.

"Here, boy," he called, "run over to Pibbs & Dibs and get 3 cents' worth of pigeon's milk, will you? Bring the change back to me and be quick about it."

The boy set out with a dollar bill, but did not return for some time, and when he did get back the chief partner was giving some orders to Reginald. But the boy knew nothing of office etiquette, so he stepped between Reggie and the boss and produced a live pigeon.

"Here you are," he said. "Mr. Pibbs says you can milk the bird yourself. And there ain't no change."

RED CROSS OFFICIALS TO TOUR WEST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The Red Cross war council announces that at its request Mr. Henry P. Davison, chairman, and Mr. Harvey D. Gibson, general manager of the American Red Cross, will, beginning at St. Louis October 22, undertake a tour through the West, visiting points at which division managers of the Red Cross have been stationed. The purpose is to meet with representatives of Red Cross chapters, also with those who have contributed to Red Cross funds and with the public generally for the purpose of rendering an account of the stewardship of the war council, of interesting the people in the work of the Red Cross and letting the public know just how the $100,000,000 war fund is being utilized.

Large meetings are to be held successively at St. Louis, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle, Minneapolis, Chicago and Cleveland. In announcing the purpose of this trip today, Mr. Davison authorized this statement:

"With the division of the United States into 13 districts, each headed by a successful business man, serving this country through the Red Cross during the war, the Red Cross organization in this country is now complete. Also special Red Cross commissions made up of competent and sympathetic American citizens have now arrived and are at work on behalf of the American Red Cross in France, Great Britain, Russia, Italy, Roumania and Serbia.

"Collections to the war fund of the Red Cross up to October 1 amounted to $64,424,232.90, of which $6,269,566.57 have been refunded to chapters to provide for their own Red Cross activities. Up to that time the war council had appropriated from the war fund $25,090,870.41.

"The Red Cross membership has just become more than four million. Included in that membership are hundreds of thousands of American women who are knitting, making surgical dressings and comfort kits.

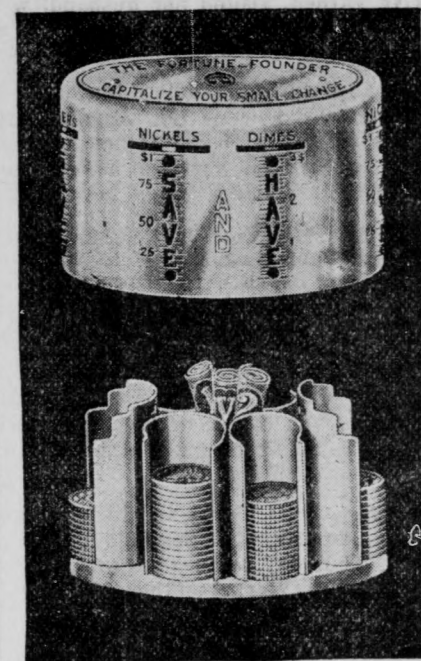

"The Red Cross war council is seeking to render an account of its stewardship to the American people in the most effective manner possible. It is giving frequent announcements of its activities, and every fact concerning the work of the Red Cross is available to everybody. We now wish to go a step farther and give a detailed account of our stewardship, as well as to advise with Red Cross workers and supporters throughout the country as to Red Cross policy and methods. We have felt that this could best be done by appearing face to face before audiences and representative citizens, telling the Red Cross story, answering questions and ourselves gaining a more complete knowledge of public sentiment.

"We are extremely anxious that the people at large should be fully informed as to the methods and policies adopted in handling the great fund with which the Red Cross war council has been intrusted, and also that all policies and activities at the Red Cross should be in accord with a fully informed public sentiment.

"The purpose of this trip is not to solicit subscriptions or to take collections, although we expect to give to the American people the latest advice we have received as to conditions in France, Russia, Roumania, Italy and Serbia.

"Our reports indicate that the American Red Cross has an opportunity to lend a helping hand and to carry a practical message of cheer to suffering humanity such as no philanthropic undertaking in the history of the world has ever had before."

Accompanying Mr. Davison and Mr. Gibson on this trip will be Rev. Robert Davis of Englewood, N. J., who has just returned from France, having gone to Paris with the American Red Cross commission in May.

WHEN THE WAR WILL END

Here is my solution, taken from the Book of Revelations of the Bible, showing that the world war will end in February:

The Kaiser is the man who started the war. Serbia is the country in which the war was started. There are six letters in each of these words, and if written together and divided into halves the two halves spell Kaiser and Serbia, as follows:

Kai-ser.

Ser-bia.

The greatest man in France is Joffre, commander of the French. Apply the same rule:

Jof-fre.

Fre-nch.

Germany claims to be the most cultured nation in the world, and the superculture is called kul-tur. Turkey has the least kultur. Apply the same rule:

Kul-tur.

Tur-key.

If the word Kaiser is written with each letter followed by the number of its place in the alphabet, and after these numbers is placed the number 6, the number of letters in his name will be as follows:

K—116.

A—16

I—96.

S—196.

E—56.

R—186.

Total 666, the Kaiser's number. The number six is found from the word Kaiser, which has six letters:

Note the following:
Six times six equals 36; plus six, equals 42.

Also note that when the Kaiser started the war he was 55 years and six months old—666 months, again the Kaiser's number.

Having this number, 666, read the thirteenth chapter of Revelations, verses four, five and eighteen, as follows:

Fourth Verse—"And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying: Who is like unto the beasts? Who is able to make war with him?"

Fifth Verse—"And there was given unto him a mouth, speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months."

Eighteenth Verse—"Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast; for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred three score and six."

War started in August, 1914, plus 42 months, making February, 1918.
